

Selva in Action

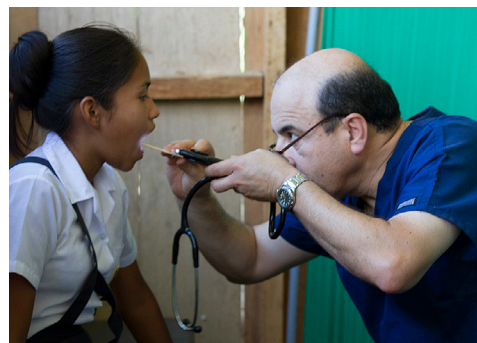

A Program of the Peruvian American Medical Society

Upcoming Medical Campaign Dates: June 4 - 10, 2022

SELVA IN ACTION (SIA), led by Medical Director Dr. Luis A. Espinoza, is a volunteer medical, dental, educational, and empowerment program that aids villagers living along the Rio Momón in the Amazon jungle in NE Perú.

Now in our 15th year, the SIA team will return to the village of Centro Fuerte for 6 days, where we have the potential of serving more than 600 villagers. The area is only accessible only by boat, and people who live along the river consider themselves "the forgotten ones."

According to the Peruvian government, the Rio Momón has been declared an area of extreme poverty. Extreme poverty is defined as having so little income that if every cent were spent on food, there would not be sufficient food to provide adequate nutrition.

SIA welcomes all volunteers who have a willing heart and helping hands.
